CAREER SUMMARY

Transitioning from a decade of leadership in health and restaurant management, I am now dedicating my focus towards front-end development. I've built a solid foundation in HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript, and am continually enhancing my skills in TypeScript and React. As a manager, I've proven my ability to build teams, drive productivity, and adapt quickly to new situations. This experience has equipped me with the strategic mindset needed in the field of software development. With a track record of making data-driven decisions and a growing technical skill set, I am ready to take on the challenges and opportunities that come with being a front-end developer.

Projects

Professional Brand Dashboard: Translated design mock-ups into a responsive website using SCSS and JavaScript. Collaborated with a designer, translating his design mock-ups, to create a responsive brand dashboard for a client. Used SCSS and JavaScript to create a user interface and interactive elements. During the process, I was mentored on semantic practices, using developer tools, and file sharing. GitHub Link – Live Link – More Projects available in my portfolio.
